

House Passes Farm Bill

Provide Funds To Carry On During July

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(P)—The house passed and returned to the senate today stopgap legislation to provide funds for operations of the agriculture department during July.

The action came after the members abandoned, temporarily, their previous status for prohibitions against below-parity sales of government-held grain stocks, in the interest of obtaining agreement with the senate on legislation which would give the department operation funds for the first time since last Wednesday.

By a rollcall vote announced as 185 to 59, the members defeated a motion by Chairman Cannon committee to insist that the senate agree to the prohibition which President and administration leaders have opposed.

Speakers made it plain during debate, however, that they intended to insist on their position in negotiations on the department's new appropriation, yielding only on the question of giving the department funds on which to operate during July.

Accuses Agriculture Department

Cannon accused the agriculture department of "trying to break down farm prices."

This, he told the house, comes "at a time when the farmers are receiving less than any one else."

He said that a recent letter from President Roosevelt to seven labor, religious and farm groups opposing the ban "bears all the earmarks of having been written in the department of agriculture."

The proof, he said, was in the reference to what Cannon said was "power-hungry farmers."

Letter From President

President Roosevelt's letter covered two points, the need as he saw it for the government to be "free to use its feed resources to produce food for the wartime effort" and the matter of appropriations for the Farm Security Administration.

(On the latter point he said the senate figure, "however inadequate, is infinitely better than the inadequate proposals that are being mistakenly urged on the congress by certain selfish and power hungry groups." He did not identify these groups.

The senate FSA figure was $222,800,000; the house approved a $127,070,000 appropriation. Mr. Roosevelt had asked $293,598,000 for the agency, which is designed to help the needy farmer.)

Cannon Warns

Cannon recalled that the house four times this year had voted to prohibit use of commodity credit corporation funds for below-parity sales and warned the house that "if you yield now you will yield for all time to come—this will be the first step."

Cannon spoke after administration leaders sought once more to obtain senate and house approval of legislation which would make funds available to the agriculture department for the first time since July 1—the start of the fiscal year. The fundless department has a payday coming up tomorrow.

Tarver Opens Debate

Chairman Tarver (D-Ga.) of the house appropriations subcommittee began the debate by proposing that for the month of July funds be made available on the basis of one-twelfth of the pending 1943 appropriation, or about $56,500,000. The senate has proposed one-twelfth of the 1942 appropriation, or about $93,900,000.

Tarver said that he thought "there can be no mistake" that below-parity sales would be permitted in July under the terms of his legislation. He said he still opposed that principle in the long-run but advocated it as a temporary concession to the senate in order to obtain some form of agreement.

War Was Enough

CAIRO, Egypt, July 7.—As if nightly air raid alarms and an enemy army some 70 miles away were not enough, a tiger broke loose from the Alexandria zoo today and headed for the city. Keepers' shots finished that menace.

Reverses To Be Expected In Middle East

Hitler Sacrifices To Wash Out Past Failures

By De Witt Mackenzie
Wide World War Analyst

The weight and fierceness of Hitler's mammoth offensive directed against the Russians in the Kursk-Kharkov sector give us blunt warning of the dangers which the Allies must surmount during the next few crucial months.

It is, of course, a matter of grave concern that the Nazis have bludgeoned their way 120 miles eastward to the Don river, thus threatening the gateway to the Caucasus. But this great advance which carries the invaders fifty miles deeper into the Soviet territory than they got in their all-out drive last year, should cause neither surprise nor despair.

Hitler is flinging one million men — a colossal force — against the Bolshevik positions in the valley of the upper Don. He is making a wholesale sacrifice of life in an effort to wash out his past failures with the blood of Germany's youth.

Must Expect Reverses

Now when you get that much pressure, and that kind of pressure, thrown against any battle line, something has to break. Man for man the Russians are probably better fighters than the Germans, but there's no such thing as an invincible super-man. We must expect Russian reverses during the furious fighting which is ahead of us, and it's best that we adjust ourselves to that viewpoint. This recognition of facts shouldn't blunt our belief that the Allies will keep Hitler out of the Caucasus and the Middle East for which he is striving.

The Hitlerian strategy is plain enough. His offensive is calculated (1) to sever Russian communications with the Caucasus, thereby cutting the Reds off from vital oil and food supplies, and (2) to swing a great army across the entrance to the Caucasian isthmus, ready for an assault southward to the oil fields and the Middle East.

Nazis Claim Voronezh

Berlin already claims the capture of the city of Voronezh, an important railway junction near the upper Don. If this is true it would sever the last main line between Moscow and Rostov — a hard blow to the Russians. The Nazi chief also must envisage the capture of the big industrial city of Stalingrad on the Volga (use your maps please) and Astrakhan, which lies near the mouth of the Volga on the Caspian sea.

You will note that should fortune favor him to that extent he then would be holding a line right across the top of the isthmus running between the Black and Caspian seas. But there his troubles would be only well under way, for in order to drive down through this isthmus he must force the lofty Caucasus mountain range, which is one of the most formidable military barriers in the world. And south of those peaks he presumably would come up against American and British forces.

Well, it doesn't seem necessary to carry the fuchrer any further at the moment along the road to the golden oil on which he hopes to float to glory. There's another aspect of this situation which often is overlooked, and this is that the northern Caucasus for which Hitler is headed represents one of Russia's principal food sources.

Agricultural Region

Dr. Lazar Volin, specialist on eastern Europe for the United States agricultural department, has described this area as "one of the richest agricultural regions of the Soviet Union, nearly equal in size to Iowa and Nebraska combined." He has said that the

Life Of WAAC Isn't Going To Be Bad At All

By George S. Mills

FORT DES MOINES, Ia., July 7.—(P)—Judged by the menu, at least, the life of a WAAC here isn't going to be bad at all.

Unless, girls, you are allergic to such things as baked ham and pineapple, scalloped potatoes, stewed tomatoes, mustard pickles, bread and butter, orange sherbet, wafers and coffee.

That's the bill of fare for the evening meal of July 20, the day the first members of the women's army auxiliary corps report to the officers school where Uncle Sam's feminine soldiers will be trained to replace men in non-combatant army jobs. The other July 20 meals:

Breakfast — Oranges, bran flakes, half a pint of milk, butterfly (sweet) rolls, buttered toast jelly, poached eggs, tea and coffee.

Lunch — Tomato essence, crackers, cold cut sandwiches, combination salad, caramel ice cream, iced tea and coffee.

School officers said the cost of feeding a WAAC and a male soldier would be about the same, but the women were expected to consume smaller portions. All meals will be served cafeteria style.

Here's what the cooks have in mind for Sunday dinner, July 26: Fried chicken, snowflake potatoes, giblet gravy, whole kernel corn, sliced tomatoes, toffee ice cream, wafers, orangeade and coffee.

The Sunday night lunch will be built around tuna fish salad and assorted sandwiches, with spiced beefs, fruit gelatine, cup cakes, lemonade and coffee.

The Japanese attacked the town Sunday with 33 planes but caused no damage.

Allied air units, meanwhile, made a light attack on Tulagi, in the Florida islands, the communique said.

Victory Fair In Audrain County

MEXICO, Mo., July 7.—(P)—With announcement the Missouri state fair would be held this year, Audrain county went ahead today with plans to stage a Victory Fair Aug. 18 to 26.

With the food for freedom program as its keynote, the fair will show what is needed in agricultural production to help win the war, said J. R. Eckenberger, president of the county fair association.

One of the prizes will be for the best cake in which honey instead of sugar is used.

United States Air Force Head In Europe

General Carl Spaatz, Boyertown Pa., Selected

LONDON, July 7.—(P)—Maj.-Gen. Carl Spaatz, who in 1929 made aviation history as commander of the army endurance plane, "Question Mark," has been appointed commander-in-chief of the United States Army air forces in the European theater of war, it was announced today.

As his first public act in his new post, General Spaatz today awarded Distinguished Flying crosses to three members of one of the American bomber crews who participated in the first United States air raid on German-held western Europe July 4.

General Spaatz himself wears both the Distinguished Service Cross and the Distinguished Flying Cross, the former for bringing down two German planes during the St. Mihiel offensive in the First World War and the latter for piloting the "Question Mark" to its then record continuous flight of 150 hours, 40 minutes and 15 seconds over Los Angeles in January, 1929.

The red-haired, 51-year-old commander has been in England since June, preparing the ground work for the American bombing against Germany.

Studied German Tactics

A native of Boyertown, Pa., General Spaatz was in Britain in 1940 as assistant military attaché, studying German aerial tactics during the worst of the blitzkrieg.

From chief of the plans division of the air forces he was elevated to chief of the air staff and assistant to the chief of the air forces last year. He is married, the father of three daughters.

The men to whom he awarded the D.F.C. today were: Second Lieut. Randall M. Dorson, Jr., of Long Beach, Calif.; Sergt. Robert L. Goley of Fredonia, Kas., and Sgt. Bennie B. Cunningham of Tupelo, Miss.

Captain Kegelman, of El Reno, Okla., was awarded the D.S.C. immediately following the raid on the Netherlands, having brought his badly-damaged plane home on one engine after striking the ground when hit by German gunfire.

Missing Men

General Spaatz, who has been assistant to the chief of the air corps, also announced that members of the two American-operated planes missing from the July 4 raid were:

Second Lieut. Frederick Loehr of Seattle.

Second Lieut. Marshall Draper of Beverly Hills, Calif.

Sergeant James W. Wright, of Stockton, Calif.

Sergeant Robert Whitham of Centralia, Wash., members of one crew.

Second Lieut. William C. Lynn of Los Angeles.

Second Lieut. Boyd Grand of Louisiana (hometown not given).

Sergeant William Murphy of Baltimore, Md.

Sergeant Charles Kramarewicz of Norwich, Conn., members of the other crew.

See Plane Crash

The first plane was shot down by anti-aircraft fire and was seen to crash, said the headquarters announcement, while the second "probably met the same fate, although when last seen by members of the raid it was flying over the target."

Members of the three other American air crews returned safely besides that of Capt. Kegelman's plane, were:

Capt. William O'Dell of Mansfield, O.; Lieut. Leslie Birleson of Muskegon, Mich. and Sergeants John Preston of Reed City, Mich., and Earl Thompson of Canaan, N. H.

Lieutenant Leo Hawel of Sedalia, Mo., was also reported missing.

Order All Policemen To Remain On Beats

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 6.—(P)—The city police radio droned out this order:

There was the routine repeat and then this afterthought:

"All other cars remain on your beat. That is all."

Bund Members Are Named In Indictments

Twenty-six Charged With Evading The Draft Act

NEW YORK, July 7.—(P)—A smashing blow at the German-American Bund involving 57 of its highest officers and active members over the nation was begun today by federal agents on newly returned indictments charging conspiracy to evade the selective service act and conspiracy to counsel Bund members to resist service in the armed forces of the United States and of conspiracy to conceal Bund affiliations in filling out alien registration forms.

Three more were accused of all but selective service violation.

The balance of those sought — among them nation and sectional officials and principal leaders of the Bund — were the object of denaturalization proceedings.

"We intend to put the Bund out of business," said United States Attorney Mathias Correa.

Two Under Arrest

Fritz Kuhn, former national Bund leader now in prison, and Gerhard Wilhelm Kunze, a sub-sequent Bund chieftain, arrested recently in Mexico and returned to this country yesterday, were involved in the federal proceedings.

The denaturalization proceedings were instituted against Kuhn, serving a term for larceny, and Kunze was charged with evasion of the selective service act, a charge upon which he was held in $50,000 bail yesterday. Kunze was wanted also in Hartford, Conn., to answer a federal charge of violation of the 1917 espionage act.

Nominally defunct since the outbreak of the war between the United States and Germany, the Bund was charged in the indictments with continuing certain acts which Correa said confirmed a belief that the Bund was operating with underground tactics.

Investigate Singing Societies

Correa said that under the cloak singing societies in the Yorkville section of New York and elsewhere had taken over Bund activities and continued to foster Nazi beliefs. He said these would be the subject of further investigation.

Correa said that under the cloak of the name "a militant organization of free Americans," the Bund organizations sought to further the political and propaganda aims of the German Reich.

The indictments strike at leaders in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Minnesota, Indiana, Washington state and California.

War On All Enemies

Attorney General Biddle said in Washington that the justice department would "carry on a vigorous and unrelenting attack against the enemies of the United States, whether they attempt to land upon our shores from Nazi submarines or whether they attempt to destroy us from within."

"This is war," Biddle declared in a statement, "and we will fight with every weapon at our command."

He described the indictment of 29 national and sectional officers of the German-American Bund as "simply another phase of the department's intensified campaign against actual or potential saboteurs of America's war effort."

Boy Shot, Shows Some Improvement

The condition of Neil Anderson, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Anderson of Knob Noster, who was seriously injured by a rifle shot Friday afternoon, was described as slightly improved at the Bothwell hospital Monday night.

The youth was riding a tractor near his home and carrying a .22 calibre rifle when it accidentally discharged and the bullet struck him in the head. He has regained consciousness, but will not be moved for a further examination until a more definite improvement in his condition is shown, hospital attendants said.

Short News Items On World Events From Various Areas

BERLIN, (From the German broadcasts) July 7.—(P)—The Germans today claimed the sinking of an American heavy cruiser and 28 merchantmen out of a convoy in Arctic waters between Spitzbergen and the Norwegian north cape.

(There was no confirmation of the German claim from any other source. In the last previous big Arctic convoy battle the Germans said they sank 18 allied ships, when actually six were sunk.)

A special announcement from Hitler's headquarters today said the convoy consisted of 38 merchant ships carrying planes, tanks, ammunition and food supplies bound for Archangel with a heavy escort of allied warships.

GENERAL MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia, July 7.—(P)—The Japanese hammered at Port Moresby, advanced allied base in New Guinea, again yesterday. General MacArthur's headquarters said today but Allied fighter planes went up to challenge the 20 Japanese bombers and their escorting fighter planes and prevented them from inflicting damage.

LONDON, July 7.—(P)—British bombers mined enemy waters during the night and a Nazi bomber was destroyed by a fighter plane on "intruder" patrols over occupied France, the British announced today, but adverse weather prevented the RAF's main squadrons from raiding Germany herself.

USO Drive Opens Today

Raising Funds To Entertain Men In Armed Forces

Pettis countians, young and old, rolled up their sleeves today and went to work as the drive for the USO and Navy Relief got under way this morning. Under the direction of James McKinney the scout executive, the Boy Scouts divided the town into districts, according to the location of the various troops, and went up and down the streets of the city delivering pamphlets describing the work of the USO. Workers in the down town and industrial districts were busy with their canvass. Early reports indicated that the women's division, under the leadership of Mrs. M. J. Shea, was the first in the field.

"The women are fully organized and are already at work," declared Mrs. Shea this morning. "They should be the first to report."

Meeting At Shops

At the Missouri Pacific shops this noon, a large crowd attended a meeting of the Booster club. Fred Rose, chief booster, presided and introduced the two speakers, the Rev. H. U. Campbell and Senator George H. Miller.

"The service organizations are united, as indicated by the name 'United Service Organizations,'" said Mr. Campbell. "The six member organizations are working as one unit to give worthwhile, clean entertainment, amusement and recreation for our boys in service. We, too, must work as one unit and unite and work together and put this drive over."

Senator Miller Speaks

Senator Miller called attention to the fact that the benefits of the USO are received sooner or later by every man in service. "This drive is not for the friends, sons and husbands of others," said the senator. "It is a direct benefit to our own boys, the boys you know in your neighborhood. Remember the slogan of the organization is 'You help someone you know — when you give to the USO.'"

First reports of the drive are not expected before tomorrow, was announced at drive headquarters today, but the drive within the limits of the city is expected to be finished by Saturday of this week, with the rural districts reporting later.

Auchinleck's Forces May Not Have Strength For A Knockout

BY ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

Adolf Hitler's invasion armies, exploiting a swift 120-mile break through, appeared to have cut direct communications between Russia's northern and southern armies in a grave turn of events in the Soviet campaign today, while in Egypt the British reported they had bent the axis southern flank back to the west for a third successive setback.

A bulletin from British imperial headquarters said Gen. Sir Claude J. E. Auchinleck's Eighth Army, bolstered by fresh troops and big American tanks, "continued their pressure on the enemy, who extended his southern flank to the west for a third successive setback."

This evidently meant that Nazi Marshal Erwin Rommel had been forced to weaken his forward line, within 70 miles of the great Alexandria naval base, and build a protecting or "extended" wall against British flying columns hacking at flanks.

Dispersed Enemy Columns

"Our battle groups engaged and dispersed several small enemy columns," British headquarters said, while front-line dispatches indicated that Gen. Rommel's weary troops were refusing battle.

A German communique asserted tersely that "In the fight for El Alamein, several enemy counter-attacks supported by tanks failed."

Aubrey's NYA
The mystery of why Congress was comparatively generous to the National Youth Administration, while clamping down upon the generally approved Civilian Conservation Corps, deepens as one reads the Congressional Record.

"The boys get $18,810,000 and supervisory folks and expense get $30,919,000?" asked Senator McKellar.

"That is correct," agreed Aubrey Williams, head of the agency.

"That is the stoutest overhead I have ever read," commented the senator, with restraint. But NYA gets the dough.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, July 7—Matters of personal prestige in the army sometimes get so belligerently entangled that you wonder whether we're fighting a foreign foe, or ourselves. For instance, Gen. Walter Weaver, commander of the air corps technical command at Pinehurst, N. C., wanted an educational film produced showing the many phases of the ground work connected with the air corps — how a plane cannot get off the ground without mechanics, the duties of weather experts, supply men, etc.

So he ordered one of his aides, Major Si Bartlett, formerly an ace Hollywood writer, to take the matter up with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. M-G-M was glad to produce the film, started several film writers on the job, and Major Bartlett was sent to Hollywood.

Before he left, however, he phoned Col. Arthur I. Ennis of air corps' public relations and cleared the idea with him.

But shortly after Major Bartlett reached the coast, he got a phone call from Col. Mason Wright, chief of the army's division of pictures, ordering him to drop work on the air corps picture immediately. Very irate, Wright said this idea had not been cleared through him.

Col. Wright is a West Pointer in the regular army, not the air corps, who has taken quite a fancy to Hollywood and has contributed a story idea to Universal. Hollywood literally shakes in its shoes when he raises his voice above a whisper.

So, after several long distance phone calls at about twenty bucks a throw, Major Bartlett and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer dropped the air corps picture and Col. Wright turned it over to Darryl Zanuck of 20th Century-Fox.

Madame Secretary
A recent meeting of the war manpower board was discussing a plan for joint labor-management committees in every industry to cope with increasingly serious labor shortages. Secretary of Labor Perkins broke in to observe that much care should be exercised.

"These committees shouldn't be trusted with too much confidential information," she cautioned, "because the labor men are apt to be indiscreet."

The secretary of labor continued on this vein for some time. Finally, one member of the board, interrupted.

"Mr. Chairman," he snorted, "from my long experience in public affairs, I have found that it is much safer to trust an indiscreet man than an indiscreet woman."

Capital Chaff
Asked how he liked his new job as public relations counsel to the secretary of war, Herbert Bayard Swope, ex-editor of the New York World, replied: "I'm trying to annoy as few people as possible."

... Senator Bilbo of Mississippi came into a friend's office, found him reading a scathing newspaper attack against him (Bilbo). The senator picked it up, perused it carefully, finally remarked: "That fellow certainly can write."

pany of Beaumont, Tex., patriotically sent Secretary Ickes a brand new corrugated rubber mat weighing 280 pounds as its donation to the rubber campaign. ... At the last Alfalfa club dinner, Eugene Meyer, publisher of the Washington Post was accosted by Jesse Jones. When he received another Alfalfa club invitation recently, Meyer inquired: "Shall I bring swords or pistols?"

More WPB Trouble
Donald Nelson's long overdue reorganization of WPB has run into White House trouble.

The president does not like Nelson's plan, under which major phases of the civilian war production organization would be turned over to the control of army brasshats.

The power hungry military tycoons have been wanting to get their hands on key WPB divisions for a long time. Until recently Nelson has straight armed these encroachments and Roosevelt has backed him up 100 per cent. But under the very hush-hush reorganization plan Nelson has submitted to the White House he proposes to hand the army on a silver platter a large chunk of his administrative power.

According to WPB insiders this is Nelson's scheme: The all-important production and purchases division of WPB to be transferred to the army. In return, the army and navy munitions board, a secondary agency which handles priorities relating to munitions, would become a WPB bureau. The present head of the board, Ferdinand Eberstadt, would be named deputy chairman of WPB — that is, second man to Nelson.

Eberstadt is a former Wall St. banker, and his elevation would still further increase $1-a-year man rule in WPB, despite the caustic denunciation of such rule by the Truman committee.

Inside word is that the president is very critical of Nelson's plan, on the ground that it would give too much authority to the military over matters he feels should be kept in the hands of civilian administrators. He is credited with the view that production is a civilian responsibility and should not be turned over to military management.

This also is the opinion of some of Nelson's chief assistants, who privately are sore at his latest tactics. One objector is reported to be William Batt, hard hitting head of the requirements committee, who long has wanted Nelson to houseclean WPB of its $1-a-year deadwood.

Apparently in an effort to mollify Batt, Nelson has offered him the vice chairmanship of WPB. Juts how this title would rank with the proposed deputy chairmanship for Eberstadt is not clear.

Meanwhile, the president is holding up Nelson's scheme and has called in Dr. Luther Gulick, an expert on governmental reorganization, to look into the matter and make a report.

Postmaster General Frank Walker drew a lot of applause when he issued a special 5-cent "Chinese Resistance" stamp, commemorating the heroic anti-Jap resistance of the Chinese. But Walker didn't realize that in doing that he was piling up a lot of headaches for himself. Since the issuance of the Chinese stamp, he has been deluged with demands from other axis-ravaged countries for similar recognition. ... United Mine Worker insiders say that John L. J. S. Hackley, of Moberly, has entered his pacer "Andrew Allison" in the 2:11 pace at the State Fair.

A waterspout is reported to have occurred last night between Mokane and Marthasville.

At the meeting of the city council last night an ordinance was presented regulating the speed of automobiles in the city streets and providing that a speed of ten miles an hour shall not be exceeded, except in cases of urgent necessity under penalty of a fine not to exceed $100. It also provided that lamps be used after sundown on the vehicles and a bell carried. The speed of ten miles an hour was considered by the council members to be too fast, and it was reduced to six miles per hour before the ordinance was passed.

"MENTAL CASE"
CHAPTER XI
FOR a moment the cabin of the schooner was deathly quiet. Then Burke spoke.

"Let go of her!" he said from between closed teeth. "Take your dirty hands off her!"

"So you have decided to tell us things about the bomber?" prompted Karl, grinning with victory but retaining his hold on Judith.

"He is not," Judith cut in. "Do what you like but he's not talking. He is not selling American defense for my sake." She turned her eyes on Burke. "Don't say anything, Tom."

Then the foreigner slapped her. The blow staggered her and she reeled back against the wall.

"Stop it!" roared Tom, and broke loose from Heavy's grasp. He could not do much, tied as he was, but he made a lunge for Karl. The force of his body knocked the man over and broke the hold on Judith.

While they scrambled to get Burke under control, Judith dashed up the cabin steps. One of the men yelled and sprang after her, but she did not pause. She was just one jump ahead of the man as she reached the rail. His hands grabbed at her as she plunged overboard. The cold splash of water took her breath away for an instant.

When no shot followed her, she thought, "They're sure I will drown. Maybe I will."

But with determination she started swimming for the lighted horizon. She would not let herself think of Tom back there in the schooner. If she could reach shore she could summon help.

Just then the clouds and fog lifted for a few minutes and the moon came out brightly. She saw that she was not so far from a cove. If only she could reach it without being tossed against the rocks!

A swell rose, tossing her over and under as it broke into a white foam. When she came out of it, spitting water, another one caught her and bounced her around like a grain of sand. But it carried her a little nearer the cove.

A blackness settled over her as she felt herself go down and down.

JUDITH moved, groaned and slowly opened her eyes. She saw a blue sky overhead. She sat up and looked about in bewilderment. She was in a little cove protected by rock on three sides, the pounding ocean on the other. The tide was out, when it came

Must Turn-In Old Part For New

WASHINGTON, July 7—(P)—Motorists will be required after July 15 to turn in a worn-out auto part before accepting a new part, the war production board ruled Monday.

The provision was part of an order imposing new blanket restrictions on the manufacture of spare parts for all types of automotive equipment, covering the last half of the year, and affecting 400 makers of replacement parts.

The new turn-in requirement is intended to add to the national stockpile a quantity of scrap metals almost equal to the amount consumed in spare parts production, WPB explained.

In addition, the order forbids the sale or delivery of a new part to a consumer to replace any part which can be restored to working order by the distributor.

The production restrictions will limit output to the minimum number of parts required to "retain the efficiency of the country's motor transportation system," WPB announced. Producers will get full priority assistance in order to help keep trucks, trailers, buses and passenger cars on the road for the duration of the war.

After August 15, parts distributors in the eastern and central time zones will be limited to a 60-day supply of spare parts in dollar value. Distributors in other time zones will be restricted to a 90-day supply.

WPB said its intent is establishing production bases for the rest of the year was to permit producers with fairly large but unbalanced inventories to manufacture those items which they do not have in stock, but for which there is a pressing consumer demand.

New Invention By Sedalian

Ned Alpert Has Wire-Cutter That Interests Army

Something new in a cutter-retriever, which has become attractive to the United States Army Signal Corps, was invented recently by Ned Alpert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Alpert, 214 West Sixth street, according to a newspaper clipping Mr. Alpert received the past week.

He calls it a "long nose cutter-retriever." The new gadget bids fair to assist the war at home and in the field of battle. It is a long-nose affair which is designed something like a pistol and cuts wire with a one-hand, one-finger trigger operation. It also retrieves or holds in a powerful grip, nuts, bolts, washers, cotter pins and the like, at inaccessible points.

Looked Upon Favorably
Because the device does it quickly and easily with one hand wire cutting operations which ordinarily are performed with a two-handed cutting iron, the cutter-retriever has had favorable response from a number of war production industries, and its usefulness in speeding up production is accepted.

The Pack Rite Machine corp., of Milwaukee, which is distributing the cutter and will manufacture it before long, reveals that a bigger model is being designed for adaptation to barb wire cutting in war. This model will be much like a revolver, long and flat and can be carried in a holster like a gun, pulled out and operated by one hand when there is wire cutting to be done.

Alpert, the inventor, is employed at the Cutler-Hammer, Inc., and is a former Sedalian. He has three brothers who are in the armed services of the United States.

north Caucasus includes about one fourth of the Russian winter wheat acreage, one-fifth of the total Russian barley acreage, 40 per cent of the small Russian corn acreage as well as tobacco, cotton and oil seeds.

Might Cut Food Supply
Loss of this vast food center would create a grave problem for the Soviet, especially in view of the occupation of the Ukraine, long known as Russia's bread basket. As long ago as last September when the Germans had overrun much of the Ukraine and were driving against the Crimea, Dr. Volin suggested that the United States might have to provide food for Russia. Loss of the upper Caucasus naturally would increase the needs.

So far as concerns the Nazi all highest, while he might deprive the Russians of food, he is likely to gain little for his own cupboard in the immediate future. The fruitful Ukraine, which now should be green with waving grain, is dead and black from the Russian scorched earth policy, and presumably similar tactics will be applied wherever the hobnails of German soldiers tread.

Rallying Sessions On Stock Market

NEW YORK, July 7.—(AP)—The stock market ran out of buying steam today after three successive rallying sessions.

Hesitancy was evident throughout the list at the start. While scattered favorites managed to cling to modest advances, trends soon turned irregularly lower and, in the closing hour, declines of fractions to a point or so were in the majority.

The comforting feature of the proceedings for bullish forces was the absence of any real selling pressure. The turnover was around 350,000 shares.

Action Aloft

Auchinlek's Forces May Not Have Strength For A Knockout

have stressed action in the Rzhev zone, 120 miles northwest of Moscow, and today Hitler's field headquarters reported:

"In attacks in the Rzhev area, the enemy was thrown from his positions on a broad front."

May Start New Movement

This may be the start of a northern pincers movement against Moscow, synchronized with the southern sweep through Voronezh, some 300 miles below the Soviet capital.

The American tankists, it was disclosed, had already met and defeated a German panzer force in a baptismal skirmish in the Libyan desert June 12, knocking out at least nine German tanks without suffering casualties themselves.

Dispatches from Cairo said the Americans, who escaped from Tobruk before the Germans captured that British stronghold, were originally scheduled to return to the United States to apply lessons experienced in the desert, but because of the German drive into Egypt they were ordered to remain with the British.

Soldiers Are Tired

British military quarters described the situation today as "satisfactory," but they said that "satisfactory" was a relative term. Field Marshal Erwin Rommel, twice hurled back in assaults on El Alamein, was probably receiving reinforcements and that the threat to the Suez and the rich delta lands of the Nile was by no means ended.

With both sides exhausted by six weeks of ceaseless fighting across the blazing sands of the western Sahara, it appeared that the battle had dwindled for the moment. Axis prisoners were quoted as saying that Gen. Rommel's soldiers were drugged with weariness, but the British declared it was too early yet to say whether Gen. Auchinlek's army had the strength to try for a knockout.

Italian headquarters reported only "local encounters" yesterday, while London military quarters said Rommel appeared reluctant to join action.

It was their first word from him for some time. He said he is well, except that he was seasick on the ocean trip across. He asks about their garden and says it is winter over there, but seems like spring, hot in the day time and cool at night. He spoke of the welcome they received in Australia, the first troops to land since 1918, and the city "opened its arms" to them. Train and street car rides were free. Bus rides were about 1 1/2 cents in his money. The cars, he added, ran on the wrong side of the street and look very strange. There are more bicycles than cars, and gasoline is almost impossible to buy.

Hats behind the Headlines

There's more behind the headlines than meets the eye. Hats, for instance. These hats belong to reporters attending the President's press conference each Tuesday and Friday at the White House.

Nowhere else in the world would a heap of hats be such a symbol. For nowhere else in the world is the news of a nation's capital covered as it is in Washington. And it is in Washington that The Associated Press has the world's largest local news and photo staff under a single directing head. This is the staff that serves your newspaper and 1,400 other AP members. AP alone provides full coverage of state and federal activities throughout the country. And AP, together with its great associate service, Wide World, has a corps of experts assigned exclusively to the interpretation of Washington news. Look for their bylines daily.

You can depend on the men who wear the hats behind the headlines!

Americans Win 3 to 1 In All-Star Game

Large Crowd Sees Dramatic Night Game

By Gale Talbot

NEW YORK, July 7—(P)—Better all-star games possibly will be played than last night's spectacle at the Polo grounds in which the American league again slugged the National into defeat, 3-1, before a benefit crowd of 33,694, but it is difficult to imagine one more dramatic.

One minute after big Ernie Lombardi of the National leaguers lifted a lazy fly to right field to end the contest, pitch darkness closed over the big arena as part of New York City's second wartime blackout. For 22 minutes the crowd that had cheered itself hoarse for two hours sat tense and almost silent.

They sat as at a wake for the blasted hopes of the National Leaguers, who had entered the tenth annual struggle with a burning determination to win and had seen their chances vanish almost with the first pitch.

Where the Nationals had planned to invade Cleveland for a climatic appearance against the Service All-Stars in Municipal Stadium tonight, they found themselves instead returning chastened to their respective clubs while the triumphant Americans headed for the Ohio city.

Lost Hope
Last night's game was over to all intents and purposes when Lou Boudreau, Cleveland's handsome young manager, laced the second ball pitched by Mort Cooper of the St. Louis Cardinals into the deep left field stands. The Nationals from that instant must have felt it was hopeless. The crowd did, anyway.

Here was Boudreau, who is not a distance clouter and had, in fact, hit only one previous home run this year, blasting for the circuit off Cooper. The Nationals must have recalled with a sudden chill that Ted Williams had closed last year's all-star battle at Detroit with a homer.

Unsettled Cooper
Boudreau's blow must have unsettled Cooper, who had been Manager Leo Durocher's game time choice to start instead of Claude Passeau of the Chicago Cubs, his original selection. For the next American leaguer, Tommy Henrich, bumped a double into right-center, and after the next two men went down big Rudy York of the Detroit Tigers lofted a homer into the upper deck in right field.

From there on, with the Americans boasting a three-run lead and their pitchers—Spud Chandler of the Yankees, and big Al Benton of Detroit—setting the Nationals down in the eighth, there never was much doubt that the Junior leaguers had won their seventh victory in 10 all-star duels.

Oven Saved Team
Mickey Owen, the Brooklyn catcher whose failure to stop a third strike made him the goat of the 1941 world series, saved his side from a shutout with a pinch home run off Benton in the eighth. He had first tried to bunt. He was the only National leaguer to get past second base, as Chandler and Benton issued only six hits.

The Americans gave their pitchers brilliant support. York and Boudreau, not content with batting the Nationals into submission each contributed a fielding gem.

Mistake In Selecting Player
Durocher's big mistake, as it turned out, was in starting Cooper instead of either Johnny Vander Meer of the Cincinnati Reds or Passeau. Both the latter proved to be in dazzling form. Vandy, his southpaw curves fairly crackling, allowed only two singles in the three innings he worked, and one of those was an extremely scratchy one by Joe DiMaggio. For two frames Passeau yielded only one single, that also by DiMaggio. Bucky Walters of the Reds sat the winners down in order in the ninth, striking out Ken Keltner of the Cleveland Indians.

Joe Gordon, the Yankee's great second baseman, found the National league hurling particularly puzzling, striking out his first three times at bat and rolling out weakly on the fourth. His fielding, however, made up for his lapses at the plate.

Sports Roundup

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Wide World Sports Columnist

NEW YORK, July 7—Look for Lou Boudreau to give another nifty performance against the service all-stars tonight. Lou claims that the cares of being the Indians' manager haven't affected his play, but look what he did the first time he got out there on a ball field with no one to worry about but himself. . . . Even Leo Durocher picked him as the standout of last night's game and Leo wouldn't admit any one of his National Leaguers was any better than the others. . . . Bill McKechnie must have known what was coming. While the American Leaguers were getting the range in batting practice, Bill chased a crowd of reporters, photographers and autograph-getters away from the dugout. "I want to see the hitters," he explained.

Bright Idea
After the brawl was over last night, someone asked Durocher what the pitchers were throwing Joe Gordon, who fanned three times. "I don't know," Leo answered emphatically, "but I'm gonna find out."

All Stardust
Joe McCarthy, still looking pretty pale after his illness, says he's feeling "just fine." . . . The New York crowd didn't pay much attention to Ted (I'm a bad boy) Williams, but it did a lot of cheering and booing every time Joe DiMaggio came up. . . . Philadelphia story: Two pinch hitters (Johnson and Litzler) two hits—and not a run. . . . At least the A's and Phils got in there, which is more than some clubs could say.

Today's Guest Star
Rud Rennie, New York Herald Tribune: "The (all star) rap is a little stiff. But they guarantee a sit-down space for every ticket holder and you may have a son or pal stuck in some dreary post where a ball and a glove would mean a lot to him. You'd send him two bucks if he asked for it, and this is just another way of doing him some good.

Sportpourri
Red Rolfe can have the job as Yale baseball coach if he wants it, but Yale won't be paying any world series bonus. . . . University of California is passing up its summer sports schedule because only 4,220 students enrolled for the summer term instead of 7,000.

Service Dept.
Lieutenants Jack Sisco, former North Texas state coach, and Marty Karow of Texas A&M are expected to represent the navy on the faculty of the Texas High School Football Coaches Association school next month. . . . and no one can squawk if they follow the usual custom of signing up a few players from the all-star gridiron game. . . . A year ago Dewey Fragetta sent heavy-weight Buddy Knox against Billy Conn at Pittsburgh and they drew $68,000. Tomorrow Fragetta will have Conn working for him and won't even get a manager's cut. Billy will be guest referee when the Fort Hancock, N. Y., boxers visit Fort Monmouth, N. J., and the proceeds of the show will go to the post athletic fund.

Germans Execute 96 Netherlanders

LONDON, July 7—(P)—Twenty army officers, seven non-commissioned officers and a number of doctors and lawyers were among the 96 Netherlanders executed by the Germans in May on charges of plotting against Nazi occupation authorities, Aneta, Dutch news agency, reported today.

The executions were carried out after the Germans reported smashing a secret organization. The identities of the victims was learned through obituaries published in German-controlled Dutch papers.

Relief Fund Game Tonight

CLEVELAND, O., July 7—(P)—A great, patriotic throng of 60,000 to 70,000 spectators is expected to comfortably fill Cleveland's massive municipal lake front stadium tonight to witness the greatest stars in baseball battle to swell the fund of the army and navy emergency relief funds.

The competing teams will be Uncle Sam's soldiers and sailors managed by Lieut. Gordon "Mickey" Cochrane, one-time pilot of the Detroit Tigers, and the ever-familiar stars of the American League, victorious in New York's Polo Grounds last night over the National League all-stars, 3 to 1. The American Leaguers will be led by the veteran Joseph Vincent McCarthy, manager of the world's champion New York Yankees.

Bobby Feller, Cleveland's own great 23-year-old fireballer, or John Duncan Rigney, former ace of the Chicago White Sox, both right handers, will be on the firing line at the start for the service all-stars, with Cleveland's Jim Bagby, another right hander, the choice of manager McCarthy. Bagby has won nine and lost four to date.

More than 45,000 tickets had been sold last night, and with favorable weather, thousands are expected to storm the gates when the general admission tickets go on sale at 6 p.m. The spectacle figures to produce between $75,000 and $80,000 for the service societies' funds.

Lieut. Cochrane, supremely confident and determined to triumph, nevertheless had not decided upon his positive pitching choice or his starting line-up today. It was the general impression that he would give the nod to the idolized Feller for sentimental reasons and then throw Rigney into the fray when and if Feller got into trouble.

start American League all-stars to fourth win in five years over Nationals at Washington, D. C. Final score, 8 to 3.

Mize Jumps To Sixth Place In The National

Ted Williams To Top In American League Race

NEW YORK, July 7—(P)—Although he still is well down in the pack, the hottest member of the major league's hitting brigade during the past week was Johnny Mize, New York Giant first baseman.

Mize, who was handicapped at the start of the season by a wandering tendon in his shoulder, vaulted from tenth to sixth place in the National League race, boosted his average above .300 to .301 for the first time and retained his home run clouting honors.

Ted Williams, the reluctant dragon of the Boston Red Sox, climbed to the top of the American League band wagon for the first time this season, displacing both Joe Gordon of the New York Yankees and Bobby Doerr of the Red Sox, who have been alternating at the top rung much of the year.

Williams now sports a .348 batting average with Gordon second at .347 and Doerr third with .346.

There's nothing to compare to that tight race in the National where Pete Reiser, Brooklyn sophomore, is away out in front with .361, followed by Joe (muscles) Medwick with .344.

Confidence Of Millions In China Mounts

Gunboat Sunk By U. S. Airforce And 25 Planes Downed

By WILLIAM McGAFFIN
CHUNGKING, TUESDAY, July 7.—(AP)—China's unconquered 400,000,000 plunged with mounting confidence today into this sixth year of war, spurred by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's declaration that the United States "is bound to deal with her first and most threatening enemy, Japan" and "is beginning to discharge her supremely important duty in the Pacific."

"By the end of this winter," he told his people in a broadcast, "Japan's strength will be only one tenth of that of the allies x x x Japan is plunging deeper and deeper into a morass. She is now beyond recovery."

"... In the near future the collapse of the enemy will be apparent."

The guns of the Chinese peasant army were speaking on many fronts, and American airmen were riding the skies in the first substantial challenge to Japanese fliers as the generalissimo observed the anniversary of what the Japanese call "the Chinese incident."

Rev. R. A. Park's Final Service Here

The recessional at Calvary Episcopal church, this city, Sunday morning, June 29, the last service conducted by Rev. R. A. Park, rector, who resigned to accept the rectorship of two churches in Texas.

Jubilant Chinese press reports credited the newly formed United States air force in China Monday night with sinking a Japanese gunboat, destroying more than 25 of the invaders' planes, and smashing his cantonments, hangars and runways in a blazing display of striking power over a triangular area of 30,000 square miles.

Then, proving defensive might as well, the Americans knocked down six more Japanese planes which attempted raids against Chinese airdromes, and dispersed a Japanese night attack on Hengyang.

The first communique, supplemented by press reports reaching Chungking, gave this account of the blows delivered by the Americans with the planes, which were flown to them from halfway around the world, over more than 13,000 miles of oceans, deserts and mountains:

At noon July 1, escorted by AVG pilots subsequently taken into the new squadron, the Americans struck out of cloud cover at Hankow, big Yangtze port for the river-borne flow of Japanese troops and war materials into the Chinese war zone.

More than 10 Japanese planes were smashed on the ground on an airdrome on the Hankow side of the river. Cantonments for Japanese troops were left splintered and aflame. River landings were smashed.

Across the river on the Wuchang side the Japanese gunboat was sunk at its moorings along the customs jetty.

No Loss To Americans

As in the other attacks, the Americans got away without the loss of a single bomber. Fifty Japanese planes at Wuchang were unable to get into the air to put up resistance, so completely were the invaders taken by surprise.

On July 2 the Americans centered their attacks on Nanchang, Kiangsi province capital and important Japanese base for the present drive to close the Kiangsi-Chekiang rail line and smash on south into Fukien and Kwangtung provinces for a juncture with Japanese forces along the coast.

On July 4 the Americans hit Canton, just inland from Hong Kong, wrecking 15 of 20 planes caught on runways of the White Cloud airdrome.

Chinese reports said the Americans also extended their forays over Tungting lake in northern Hunan province and Poyang lake in northern Kiangsi. Results of these attacks were not disclosed. The Japanese are known to have gunboats on both lakes.

On the ground the Chinese stand also was reported stiffening. Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek's high command said heavy casualties had blunted a Japanese effort to trap large Chinese forces south of the Chekiang-Kiangsi railroad in south Kiangsi province.

Several thousand Japanese were killed in bitter fighting in the foothills of the Taiheng mountains near the Honan-Shansi border, the Chinese communique said.

Present Policy On Insurance Be Continued

Council Tables Ordinance For Amusement Tax

The city council met in regular session Monday night, Mayor A. H. Wilks presiding and all councilmen and City Counselor D. S. Lamm present.

When reports of the standing committees were called for A. L. Pringle, finance chairman, spoke of the insurance premiums that were coming due and recommended that the present method of insurance, which he said was 80 per cent coverage, be continued. The matter was voted on and all were favorable with the exception of Walter Jesse who wanted to be recorded as voting no, stating he believed they were carrying more than 80 per cent coverage.

An emergency ordinance was passed giving Nelson E. Miller and Clara Miller permission to use a portion of an alley adjacent to their place, 208 South Washington, which is covered by part of their frame property, and which has been a considerable length of time. The ordinance permits the present building to remain there, but should it burn down, or be blown down during a storm, it can not be replaced.

Table Proposed Tax

The ordinance providing for an amusement tax, covering pinball and music machines, tabled at the last meeting, was brought up, Mr. Pringle, who was absent at the last meeting, said he did not understand why it should be tabled, that other cities were taxing such machines, and he believed Sedalia is entitled to the revenue. He said he would like to hear some reasons why it was tabled. He was answered by E. H. McLaughlin who said the Sedalia council wanted to see the effect of the tax by other cities, and were waiting to learn from them whether it would be feasible.

The matter was put to a vote and was unanimously tabled.

Carl Abbott was granted a refund on a liquor license. He had paid $300 for one year, then after one month was refused a permit by the state, and asked for a return of $275, which was granted.

Cecil H. Smith, 324 North Summit, was appointed a member of the police force, taking the place of Elmer Bratten, resigned to take a job at the shops.

Emmet Sullivan, chairman of the public buildings committee, recommended that the lease of the building, formerly known as the Dickman furniture factory, now owned by the city, be renewed to the NYA.

Applications for licenses to sell liquor were granted to:

Richard Smith, 121 East Main street, liquor by the drink.

Opal E. Meyer, 105 South Missouri, 3.2 beer.

Pete Drenas, 422 South Osage avenue, 3.2 beer.

C. D. Stevens, 619 East Fifth street, wholesale beer.

Caroline Baker, 204 South Engineer, 5 per cent beer.

Uphold Options At Weldon Springs

ST. LOUIS, July 7.—(AP)—Federal Judges Charles B. Davis and George H. Moore, acting in separate cases, Monday upheld the validity of option contracts for purchase of land by the government for the Weldon Spring TSNY plant, but Judge John C. Sweeney Collet handed down an opposite ruling in a third case.

Differing from his colleagues, he held the option contract method of obtaining the site was illegal and value of the property should be fixed by condemnation commissioners.

For purposes of expediting action, the three judges had sat together in hearing arguments in the cases, but each handed down an independent decision affecting a different tract.

Options on 268 parcels of land for the ordnance plant had been obtained by R. Newton McDonald, Kansas City contractor, who acted as agent for the war department. The options provided the landowners were to pay McDonald 5 per cent of the gross sale prices as commission.

After $1,073,802 had been paid by the government on 121 tracts, United States District Attorney Harry C. Blanton filed suit to set aside the remaining options and acquire the land by condemnation proceedings. He contended the option contracts were illegal and the prices were excessive.

Arrested for violating two fishing laws, Edward Bryant paid a fine of $15 and costs, a total of $24.25 in the justice court of A. M. Harlan Monday. Bryant was charged with fishing without a license and possessing channel cat out of season.

Youths Held In Wreck Attempt

CLAYTON, N. M., July 7.—(AP)—Two Oklahoma youths, one yet in his teens, were bound over to district court Monday after pleading guilty to an attempt to wreck the Colorado and Southern railroad's streamliner, the Texas Flyer, Saturday night.

They were to appear for sentencing before District Judge Livingston Taylor late in the day.

The attempt failed, investigating authorities said, when a gasoline pilot car ahead of the flyer found a rock placed on the rails at a crossing two and a half miles north of here. Identity of the youths was subsequently learned when two girl companions came to local officers.

Upon arraignment the pair gave their names as Virgil Trembly, 26, of Wheelless, Okla., and Lawrence Parsley, 16, of Felt, Okla. Trembly was held under $25,000 bond; Parsley under $2,000.

Officers said the rock had been placed on the tracks about 10:30 p. m. Saturday night, and that the youths apparently had been drinking. They came here for a Fourth of July rodeo.

The train, it was stated, carried a large number of troops.

Change Of Venue In Assault Case

Lloyd Noakes, who has been in the Pettis county jail for the past several weeks on charges of assault and battery in a fight at Fairview Tavern, was released Monday on $500 bond.

New charges have been filed against Noakes for assault and battery upon Forrest Poindexter, constable, in the same fight. He has been granted a change of venue to the court of Justice of the Peace T. A. Moore at Beaman.

Appointed Constable

Charles B. Shepard has been appointed constable of Cedar township, to serve in that capacity for a period of four months. The appointment was made by the Pettis county court.

HEARTS and FLOWERS

TOM: Gosh, Ann, I'm glad I could get back in time for our wedding anniversary. Being on the road as much as I am, it seems like I'm never home. Here's something for you.

ANN: You darling! Flowers!

TOM: It could have been a new hat if that blamed car of mine hadn't had to have a new set of piston rings.

ANN: I know wives shouldn't interfere in their husband's business, Tom, but Mrs. Reardon was telling me how much money Jack saved on the maintenance of his car. He drives even more than you do.

TOM: What all did she tell you, Ann?

ANN: Well, Jack Reardon uses Conoco Nth motor oil. That's the oil that oil-plates the engine and saves a lot of wear and tear. And it contains a new synthetic that helps keep the oil from fouling up, too. Mrs. Reardon says Jack has to make his car last two or three years longer now and Conoco Nth motor oil will help him do it!

TOM: That settles it, Ann! I'm going to change right now to Conoco Nth!

ANN: Good boy! And maybe I can still get that new hat?

You'll agree that it's orchids to Conoco Nth motor oil, once you prove to yourself how it is so economical, clean-running and wear-saving. See Your Conoco Mileage Merchant today! Continental Oil Company
